

Principle 7: Grades K-2

November 2008

The ocean is largely unexplored

A.1.
People have always had questions about the ocean. People explore the ocean to answer their questions.

B.1.
People depend on resources from the ocean such as oxygen, food, water, energy, etc.

A.2.
Tools help scientists and explorers make better observations to answer their questions about the ocean.

A.3.
Many people choose to explore the ocean as a career. They enjoy doing science & making discoveries related to the ocean.

B.2.
Ocean resources are limited so we need to learn as much about them as possible through exploration and scientific investigation.

B.3.
For more on how people depend on the ocean, see Principle 6.